28 BENOIT, Pierre Jacques. Voyage a Surinam. Description des possessions néerlandaises dans la Guyane. Bruxelles, De Wasme et Laurent, 1839. Folio. Contemporary half green morocco, spine gilt (chafed). With woodengraved illustration on title-page and 100 views and illustrations on 50 full-page lithographed plates, including the fine frontispiece, by Madou and Lauters after the author; several on chine applique. 76 pp. € 3500,00

First edition; with armorial bookplate of Isaac Meulman. - Benoit was born in 1782 in Antwerp and died in Brussels in 1854. During his stay in Surinam he had an eye for daily life in Surinam, he belonged to the opponents of the abolition of slavery: the Surinam slave-owners, from humanitarian motives and from natural self-interest, by no means treat their slaves as badly as is asserted by those who are in favour of abolition. He cannot avoid picturing the harsh and cruel daily existence of the slaves and explaining why they run away, revolt against their masters and are filled with hatred towards the whites. When describing their dance-festivals, he says that the need to find an outlet for their misery accounts for the frenzy with which they throw themselves into it (Introduction by S.W. de Groot to the facsimile edition). He made a large number of charming and meticulous drawings. These very attractive set of views of Surinam include fine scenes of native life, showing costumes, dwellings, ceremonies, festivals, recreations, interiors, utensils, etc. of the negro- and Indian population. Beautiful lithographed plates-book on the people and life in Surinam. - Except some marginal foxing as usual, a fine large-paper copy. Sabin 4737; Muller, America, p.169; Suriname-Cat. UB Amsterdam 0580a; Chadenat I, 14: Un des plus beaux livres sur la Guyane hollandaise.

29 BENZO(NI), Hieronymus. De gedenkwaardige West-Indise voyagien, gedaan door Christoffel Columbus, Americus Vesputius en Lodewijk Hennepin. Behelzende een naaukeurige en waarachtige beschrijving der eerste en laatste Americaanse ontdekkingen... Mitsgaders een getrouw en aenmerkelijk verhaal van de Opperhoofden der Spanjaarden onderlinge oneenigheden doenmaals in America, als ook de onmenschelijke wreedheden door haer aen d'Indianen gepleegd. In't Italiaans beschreeven .. nu eerst getrouwelijk vertaald. Leyden, Pieter vander Aa, 1704. 4to. Modern marbled boards. With engraved frontispiece and 5 folding engraved plates. 86 (=89),(11) pp.

The first part is a translation of Girolamo Benzoni's (1518/19-1570) La Historia del mondo nuovo, Venice, 1565. Benzoni went in 1541 as a soldier in the Spanish army at an age of 22 from Milan to the New World. He spent the next 15 years stationed at various posts throughout America. 'It is valuable as an early record of the establishment of Europeans in America written from a non-Spanish standpoint. The woodcuts are of particular interest: engraved from the author's own drawings, they illustrate the daily life of the Indians and some of the natural resources of the country' (Howgego p.107). He describes vividly the Spanish cruelties committed against the Indians. The second part contains the voyages of Amerigo Vespucci (1451-1512). The account of Hennepin called for on the title-page is not present, it was issued separately. - (Age-browned; upper outer corner occasionally waterstained).

4to. Contempoary calf, rebacked with the original spine laid dow, spine richly gilt. With engraved folding plate depicting Tahitian canoes and 5 folding engraved maps. XXVIII,476 pp. € 4850,00

First English edition; first published in Paris in 1771: Voyage autour du monde. - First official French circumnavigation of the world. Louis Antoine Bougainville gives an account of the discovery, occupation and natural history of the Falkland Islands, which he handed over to Spain. He describes in detail the expulsion of the Jesuits of Paraguay, his visits to Rio de Janeiro, Montevideo and Patagonia in South America, the Tuamotu Archipelago, Tahiti (a vocabulary of Tahiti is added), the Samoa Islands, the New Hebrides, the Solomon, Luisiada, and New Britain archipelago, the Moluccas, etc. are described. Bougainville created a great deal of interest among the French in the Pacific and the French philosophers could substantiate the theories concerning the question of the 'noble savage' and the influence of society and its laws on men. On Tahiti became evident that the botanist's valet was a woman, Jeanne Barre; she stayed with the expedition and became the first woman on record to have circumnavigated the globe.

2 volumes in 1. Contemporary half calf. (top of spine sl. dam.). With large folding coloured map and 2 folding engraved plates. XIV,46,178; 298,(18) pp. € 875,00

First Dutch edition. - 'A more correct translation than Flavigny's. The letters are properly numbered, second, third and fourth. An excellent preface and introduction are added, with additional notes, and an appendix, completing the life of Cortes' (Sabin). The first letter is still lost, the fifth was not discovered until 1777 and remained unpublished until 1844. - 'Cortés's Letters are unique among letters of the period by virtue of their much greater length and their structure as letters, or true narratives, rather than as itemized accounts. The Letters are much more than a mere narrative of political and military events during the conquest of Mexico. Cortés describes and interprets the reality in which he finds himself, fusing data with ideas, facts with proposals. His detailed descriptions provided the first image of a New World - a New Spain- for many Spaniards. Though Cortés's Letters were written with a single reader in mind - Charles V- and were not intended as histories of the era and its events, they remain even today central documents of the conquest of Mexico' (Speake, Literature of travel and exploration, p.285). - A fine copy of the rare Dutch edition.

Mitsgaders, deductie over de geheime onderhandelingen tusschen den heer van Berckel, en de Engelsche colonien in America, en het tractaat met dezelve gesloten te Aken 4 sept. 1778. Uit de papieren van een regent van eene voornaam stad .. (No pl.), 1781. Original boards (dam.; spine dam.). Engraved title with nice oval portrait of the author. 346,(1) pp. € 350,00

A counterfeit edition in 8vo, published against the will of the author in the same year as the privately printed edition in folio. - This political discussion relates to the secret negotiations between the pensionary Van Berckel and the English colonies, and the treaty at Aix-La-Chapelle in 1778. 'The Politiek vertoog - perhaps the work that made the greatest sensation, ever published in the Netherlands - is a most vehement, but also very partial accusation of the city of Amsterdam and its politics beginning from 1581, and especially during the American war. It strongly condemns the help indirectly granted by Amsterdam to the Americans, as well as the secret treaty and negotiations made with them; and in all these points the author, who was a gentlemen of high standing, has obtained the most authentic informations and gives very valuable details' (Muller, America, p.191).

- 215 HAWAII. Tropical plantation scene. (No place, second half 19th century). Original watercolour. 10 x 12,5 cm. € 850,00
A beautiful watercolour which, for several reasons, probably depicts an island scene in Hawaii. A gracefully executed pandanus tree dominates the right foreground, balanced by the partially cloud-covered, sharply contoured volcanic mountain in the left background. In the left foreground, a female figure wearing a long skirt and long-sleeved blouse contemplates the water, while behind her in the left middleground are several other figures, one a fully clothed male figure working with a long digging stick. Slightly further behind these figures are two low western style buildings with simple triangular frames. The irrigation channel (similar to those of the Hanalei Valley taro fields on Kauai), the man working with a Polynesian form of digging stick, the style of the houses (similar to that found in Koloa, on Kauai), the volcanic backdrop, the coconut and pandanus trees, and the western style of clothing worn by the figures, all point to a Hawaiian location.

First Dutch edition; first published in Paris in 1683 Description de la Louisiane. - 'First and most important of the writings of this rascally friar, giving a fairly reliable account of his genuine voyage up the Mississippi from the Illinois to the falls he named St. Anthony's (including his captivity there among the Sioux Indians). It was the first book to use the name Louisiane, albeit that name whad been given to this region previously by La Salle and was not Hennepin's invention as claimed by him' (Howes p.262). Hennepin, a Belgian Franciscan missionary, accompanied the French explorer De la Salle on his 1678-79 expedition from Fort Frontenac to Niagara, then on to Illinois country from where Hennepin went further on his own. He became the first to describe the Niagara Falls (Howgego p.500). - The earliest printed account of Louisiana. - (Corner of 1 leaf in the second work damaged with some loss of text; age-browned). - A very fine copy with the map.

Firts Dutch edition. - Bug-Jargal is a novel by the French writer Victor Hugo (1802-1885). First published in Paris in 1826. It is a reworked version of an earlier short story of the same name published in Hugo brothers' magazine Le Conservateur littéraire in 1820. The novel follows a friendship between the enslaved African prince of the title and a French military officer named Leopold D'Auverney during the tumultuous early years of the Haitian Revolution. One of the most important works of nineteenth-century colonial fiction, and quite possibly the most sustained novelistic treatment of the Haitian Revolution by a major European author.

First edition. - 'Ziekenhuizen op de plantage bestonden al sinds de achttiende eeuw, maar daar moet men zich niet veel van voorstellen. De bedomppte, veel te krappe en vaak bouwvallige gebouwtjes stonden koud op de grond en waren multifunctioneel, ze dienden bijvoorbeeld ook als magazijn of veestal. In 1828 trok de medicus Kuhn van leer tegen dit soort praktijken. Zijn voorstellen ter verbetering, onder andere weergegeven in de bijlagen van zijn boek met twee ontwerpen voor plantageziekenhuizen van de architect W.M. de Vroome, werden in de negentiende eeuw blijkbaar gedeeltelijk overgenomen, want de situatie verbeterde inderdaad' (Kolfin, Van de slavenzweep, p. 72). - Rare observations on the conditions of the slaves in Surinam.

Second French edition, first edition in 8vo; first published in Paris in 1797. - La

Pérouse's (1741 - 1788) expedition was one of the most important scientific explorations ever undertaken to the Pacific and the west coast of North America. He led the first French expedition to Alaska, and the first non-Spanish one to California. Many important discoveries were made including that of the strait between the island of Sakhalin and Japan, named after La Pérouse. After extensive exploration in the Pacific, he arrived in Botany Bay on the 24th January 1788. When the Boussole and the Astrolabe sailed out of Botany Bay on 10th March 1788 they were never seen again, and this disappearance became the greatest maritime mystery of the 18th century. Not until 39 years later it was established by the sea-captain Dillon that the expedition had ended its days on the reef of Vanoriko, one of the Santa Cruz Islands. The folio atlas contains magnificent maps of Russian Asia, Japan, the Pacific north-west coast, Hawaii, San Francisco and Monterey and the views include a fine series of canoes and botanical and ornithological plates. - A fine set of one of the chief French exploring efforts of the 18th century.

Modern wrappers. (2),214 pp. € 125,00

First Dutch edition was published in 1791. - Thomas Paine (1737-1809) was an English and American political activist, philosopher, political theorist and revolutionary. As the author of the two most influential pamphlets at the start of the American Revolution, he inspired the rebels in 1776 to declare independence from Britain. Paine became engrossed in the ongoing French Revolution that began in 1789. He visited France in 1790. Meanwhile conservative intellectual Edmund Burke launched a counterrevolutionary blast against the French Revolution, entitled Reflections on the Revolution in France (1790); it strongly appealed to the landed class and sold 30,000 copies. Paine set out to refute it in his Rights of Man (1791). This Rights of Man can be seen for what it is: the textbook of radical thought and the clearest of all expositions of the basic principles of democracy. First edition published the same year. - The first (and most successful) of Parry's four voyages under his own command. By August 1, 1819, Sir William Edward Parry (1790-1855) had managed to sail westward completely through Lancaster Sound, establishing that it was actually a strait. He then made the European discovery of Barrow Strait, which he named after Sir John Barrow. Continuing westward, he reached the south coast of a large island he named Melville Island after Lord Melville. Parry and his men had sailed west of the 110th meridian of longitude, half the distance of the Northwest Passage, and thereby won a prize of £ 5.000, which Parliament had offered as an incentive for the discovery of the Northwest Passage. - (Some spotting and foxing as usual). - Fine.

 Wendell Phillips had sufficient income to abandon his law practice and devote his life to fighting for social justice. His career reached its apogee when he entered full swing into the abolitionist crusade. Red-headed, utterly fearless, Phillips is said to have possessed 'a mind like a Gatling gun' raking his hearers with his sallies. Unquestionable one of the greatest orators of his time, a man with a golden voice. To hear Phillips speak was to hear thunder threatening to darken a bright summer day. A great favorite of abolitionists everywhere. (Blockson, A commented bibliography of one hundred and one influential books by and about people of African descent (1556-1982), 36). Phillips was called 'the voice of the abolitionist movement' with armorial bookplate and 2 blind-tooled stamps. 'This second edition is preferred because it has the chart of the western and southern oceans, which was not included in the first edition and additional text relating to Greenland and to whales and whaling' (Hill p.525). - Containing I. John NARBROUGH's passage in the Batchelour through the Strait of Magellan and into the South Pacific to Chile, which was much read by later navigators. II. One of the earliest English accounts of Abel Janszoon TASMAN's voyage of 1642 from Batavia, during which he discovered Tasmania and New Zealand and visited Tonga and Fiji; based upon the account by Dirk Rembrantszoon van Nierop (Amsterdam 1674); III. Captains John WOOD and William FLAES, in the ships Speedwel and Prosperous, explored the Northeast Passage and visited Novaya Zembla. IV. The narrative of Friedrich MARTEN's, here first translated into English, was the first book on a voyage to Spitsbergen and Greenland, undertaken for whaling purposes. The editor of this work is believed to be Sir Tancred Robinson. In his lengthy introduction, he speaks of explorations towards the South Terra Incognita, suggests that the Dutch had made great discoveries there which they had never divulged, and also speaks of Ferdinand Magellan, Pedro Fernández de Quirós, Sir Francis Drake, and others who had sailed the South Seas (Hill p.524). - A wealth of travel-accounts. - A fine copy.

First edition; with armorial bookplate of Thomas Lloyd. - 'Captains Shelvocke and Clipperton led a privately financed privateering expedition to attack Spanish shipping. Shelvocke gave his superior officer the ship in a storm and proceeded to Brazil and thence to the west coast of South America, where in two months he sacked Payta, Peru and captured several small prizes. His vessel, the Speedwell, was wrecked at Juan Fernández Island, but a ship was built out of the wreckage, and he sailed up the coast to Baja California. After crossing the Pacific via Guam and Macao. Shelvocke returned to England, where he was accused of piracy and embezzlement, and then acquitted. He soon left for the Continent a wealthy man. Shelvocke wrote this account, in part, as a vindication of his conduct' (Hill p.554). 'From the Brazilian aspect, Shelvocke's voyage is of interest because he landed at Santa Catharina, and describes it at length in a special chapter' (Borba de Moraes p.796). 'In the map of the world California is shown as an island. Two of the plates represent male and female inhabitants of California. Shelvocke has the fullest accounts of California, the natives and other features, of any of the old voyagers' (Cowan p.212). Selvocke's controversial narrative is probably best known as the inspiration behind the albatross incident in Coleridge's Rime of the ancient mariner (Howgego p.958). - (Title-page trimmed with loss of part of final line). - A clean copy.

Oblong 8vo. Contemporary vellum (sl. soiled), with ties. With 25 engraved maps and plates (6 folding or double-page). (4),172 pp. € 18.500,00

First French edition; first published in Leyden in 1619: Oost ende West-Indische spiegel der nieuwe navigatien. - Joris van Spilbergen (Antwerp 1568 - Bergen op Zoom 1620) was appointed in 1614 to head an expedition to the East Indies for the East India Company (VOC) by way of the Strait of Magellan to reassert Dutch claims to access into the Pacific from the east. The first attack on the Spanish was made on Santa Maria in Chili. He went on north to Valparaiso, Acapulco, further along the Mexican coast. In 1616 he reached Guam and Manila and thence to Ternate and Java. Joris van Spilbergen was the second Dutchman to circumnavigate the world. He discovered land along what is now the coast of California. 'Spilbergen had succeeded in establishing the power and reputation of the Dutch East India Company. In Java he took on board the crew of Le Maire and Schouten whose vessels had been confiscated. Le Maire and Schouten had discovered several small islands, Staten Landt, and the Straits of Le Maire, and had been the first to round

Cape Horn' (Hill 1619). 'Spilbergen's voyage was the most successful Dutch circumnavigation to date. The fleet had kept together, there had been little loss of Dutch life, and the expedition had met a considerable profit for its sponsors' (Howgego S159). 'The Mirror is an extremely important book for the history of Dutch navigation' (Borba de Moraes p.827). - One tear skilfully repaired, otherwise a very fine copy of the two famous Dutch circumnavigations.

Alvan Stewart (1790-1849), a New York lawyer advocated the radical theory that the Constitution was fundamentally antislavery. He believed that the Fifth Amendment gave the federal government the power to end slavery anywhere in the nation. In 1845 Stewart tried to apply his theories to the New Jersey Constitution, but the supreme court of that state, in State v. Van Beuren and State v. Post, rejected his arguments (Finkelman p.151).

Uncle Tom's cabin was written in serial form for The National Era, an abolitionist newspaper, in 1851. When it appeared as a two volume work by March 1852, it quickly became a work of tremendous historical significance. Beside the authorized edition published by Thomas Bosworth more than twenty pirated London editions appeared in 1852. The character of Uncle Tom was based in part on the narrative on the life of Josiah Henson, an escaped slave. 'The social impact of Uncle Tom's cabin on the United States was greater than that of any book before or since' (PMM 332). Cf Sabin 92491 and Work p.304.

First edition. - The campaign by Edward Vernon (1684 - 1757), an English naval officer, against the Spanish, a large-scale assault on Cartagena de Indias (in present-day Colombia) in 1741 ended in disaster. This was one of the largest naval campaigns in British history. In Cartagena the British fleet of 186 ships and almost 27,000 men was defeated by a garrison of 3,500 men and 6 ships of the line commanded by the one-eyed, one-armed, one-legged, Spanish admiral Blas de Lezo. The strategic defense of the colonial port of Cartagena led to heavy British casualties and eventually a retreat to Jamaica.

Dutch translation of: Naufrage et aventures de Pierre Viaud, natif de Bordeaux, capitaine de navire, histoire véritable. Bordeaux 1768. - This book tells the extraordinary story of a French seaman who sailed from Bordeaux in February 1765 as mate in the Aimable Suzette, Captain St. Crie, bound for the West Indies. Forced by illness to remain on the small island of St. Louis, off the coast of Saint-Domingue (Haiti), Viaud enters into a partnership with a Haitian resident, monsieur Desclau, to trade goods to Louisiana. They hire a vessel, the Tigre, Captain La Couture, and sail with sixteen passengers and crew on 2 January 1766. During the voyage the ship springs a leak, and on 16 February 1766 runs aground and breaks up on an island off the coast of Florida. Viaud's account of his adventures somehow fell into the hands of the French scholar Jean Gaspard Dubois-Fontanelle who published it at Bordeaux in 1768. Exactly how much is the work of Fontanelle himself is uncertain, but it was an instant bestseller and became one of the most reprinted and translated works of the 18th century. After many years of debate and indecision, the basic framework (at least) of Viaud's account is now regarded as truthful (Howgego V, p.474-474).

'Probably the story of cannibalism accounted for the popularity of this narrative' (Huntress 80C).

Contemporary handcoloured engraving after Benjamin West by William Woollett. ca. 47 x 59,5 cm. € 2250,00

General James Wolfe (1727-1759) died during his famous victory over the French at Quebec, which delivered Canada into the hands of the British.

The engraving depicts the general surrounded by his officers and a native American warrior, with ships in the background. The original heroic painting by Benjamin West (1738-1820) of 1771 was an instant success and the engraving by William Woollett which followed was one of the most commercial successful prints ever published (Von Erffa & Staley, The paintings of Benjamin West, p.213). - Mounted on linnen, occasionally faint rubbing, otherwise fine.

Original Dutch edition; other editions were published the same year in Amsterdam by Jacob Benjamin and in Utrecht by Gerrit Nieuwenhuysen.

- This work may be considered as the most complete and most authentic contemporary account existing of the fatal war between Holland and England, the consequence of which the final loss of New Netherland by the treaty of Breda, 1667. Amongst other things the work contains

1. A list of vessels and goods captured by the English from the Dutch in America.
2. An account of the capture of New Amsterdam in 1664, with the articles of surrender of the whole province of New Netherland to Governor Nicolls. The Dutch edition of 1667 was the first printed report of these transactions. Nothing is known in English of anything like so early a date as 1668.
3. De Ruyter's voyage to the West Indies.
4. Capture of four West Indian vessels.
5. French affairs in Barbadoes.
6. The peace negotiations.
7. Report on the capture of Surinam by the Dutch.

'For broader and richer intelligence the work goes back centuries to the origin of the African slave-trade, sketches its horrible progress, its legal abolition by the British government, and the abolition of slavery under it and in other countries. Slavery is then followed to this continent, and traced down to the Revolution, and to the Abolition Ara. Then opens the great conflict; its principles, objects, measures, and true spirit, all carefully outlined till slavery fell'. (Preface).
