LIST 55: CHINA

Delivery according to the trade conditions of the Antiquarian Bookseller's Association of the Netherlands, Amsterdam depôt-no. 212/1982, in which among other things is determined that the property right of the supplied goods remains with us up to full payment.

Prices are quoted in euro (€) to which postage and insurance will be added.

For clients within the European Community VAT (currently 6% on books) will be added to the prices. A VAT registered customer in another EC country will be zero-rated if the customers' VAT number is known to us.

We always enjoy meeting our customers personally in Vianen (only 15 km from Utrecht or 45 km from Amsterdam) from Monday through Friday, on Saturday visitors are welcome by appointment. We recommend though, that you call in advance, to be certain we will be there for your arrival.

With coloured lithographed frontispiece and 60 wood-engraved plates and illustrations. XVI,645 pp. € 375,00

First American edition. - Laurence Oliphant (1829-1888), British adventurer, diplomat, author and traveller, was private secretary to Lord Elgin and accompanied him to Calcutta, Hongkong, Canton, Tientsin and Yedo. The main purpose of the mission was the signing of treaties opening both China and Japan to British trade. The first part gives a detailed survey of the river Yangtze, opening up the hinterland to Western commerce. The second part gives a detailed description of the political and social conditions in Japan.

4to. Contemporary half calf. With 7 engraved plates (frontispiece missing). (6),280 pp. € 650,00

First Dutch edition. - Pinto (1509-1583), a Portuguese adventurer, embarked for India in 1537 desiring to try his fortunes in the East. He was shipwrecked on the island of Tanixumaa (Japan) in 1542 and thus was the first European to enter Japan. After years as trader and adventurer in South-east Asia, China, Indonesia and India, Pinto returned to Portugal. After arriving in 1558 he wrote his famous 'Peregrinations', published 30 years after his death in 1614. Pinto made four visits to Japan, he also gives first hand accounts of India, Abyssinia, Malacca, Sumatra, Java, Chine, Tartary etc. 'It is, moreover, a classic record of the experiences and observations of one of the earliest Europeans to penetrate into the interior of oriental countries, which, in that era, were practically unknown.' (Cox). Although many of his described adventures were too fantastic to be believed and earned him the sobriquet 'Prince of Lies', he was indeed the first known European to enter Japan. - Brownd and waterstained but still a good reading copy of an important book. *Tiele 863; Cat. Giving an account of the religion, customs, manners, &c. of the inhabitants. Together with a relation of what happened to the author in his travels; particularly his conferences with the Jesuits, and others, in several parts of Europe ... London, printed for Dan. Brown, a.o., 1704. Contemporary panelled calf (hinges splitting but holding). With engraved folding map, engraved folding plate showing the 'Formosan Alphabet' (with tear), and 15 (of 16) engraved plates showing costumes, money, buildings, boats etc. (margin of folding plate sl. dam.; plate 12 missing as often) XIV,(56),327,(9) pp. € 1.500,00

First edition. - One of the most fantastic literary forgeries of all times. Psalmanazar (N.F.B. de Rodes ?), a native from the south of France, led the life of an adventurer. Being instructed by Jesuit tutors in the history and geography of Japan he pretended to be a native of Japan, under influence of chaplain William Innes, to render the story more plausible, this was changed into being a native of Formosa. In London he attracted at once popular interest. Psalmanazar invented his own 'Formosan' language etc., and he wrote his fictitious narration. What was not due to his own imagination he borrowed from the accounts of Varenus and Candidius. Doubt at once arose over the authenticity of his narrative, and after Innes was sent as chaplain-general to the English forces in Portugal, he felt incompetent to sustain his imposture unaided. (D.N.B.). - Slightly foxed, otherwise fine.
